Pool Table Cover

If you own a pool table, then you probably would want to make sure that it will be protected from damage caused by scratches and spilled drinks. One way to ensure that is using a pool table cover.

A pool table cover made of cloth, usually velvet, is usually cheaper than a pool table pad. If you want to save money, then this is the ideal choice. You can use also a customized cover to complement the style in the room. However, a pool table cover is not as effective as a pool table pad.

A pool table pad, on the other hand, is usually made of high-quality wood and can afford better protection for your pool table, though it will most likely cost you more than a pool table cover.
